Each Sunday around 5:00 PM, beginning on March 15 until school resumes, your scholar's Alternative Learning Plan Assignments will be posted on our school website. Parents, thank you in advance for your kind and generous assistance in extending learning into the home during this very difficult and trying time. Be safe and God bless!

Hello Fifth Grade!

Math:

DO YOUR XtraMath! Remember to take a picture and email your homework to me at cwatson@saintangela.org . I am also in your google classroom as mrswatson1332@gmail.com.

We will continue to work with decimals. Remember, both fractions and decimals are numbers that come between two whole numbers. This week we are going to estimate the quotient (or answer) of a decimal division problem. I will see you at our Zoom conference on Wednesday at 10:00 AM.

This week we will all use the same worksheet. You may want to have a piece of paper to copy down the examples we do on our Zoom conference so you can have some of the answers to your homework done! Page down to page 4 to get your Math worksheet.

Reading:

This week we are going to work on Point of View. Use clue words to determine if a given sentence is first person, second person or third person. Remember to look for your clue words. The words "I", me, my, mine, we, us, our, ours all indicate FIRST person. The words YOU and YOUR indicate SECOND person. The words he, she, his, her, their, they and them indicate THIRD person. You may write your answers on a separate piece of paper.

Page down to get your worksheet on page 2 and 3 below.

Remember all of your reading worksheets for the rest of the year are in the cafeteria. They are on a pink sheet of construction paper that says Title 1 Grade 5.

Keep going your homework is on the next page. Page down.

Bless me, O Lord with good health, and heal all the troubles of my mind, spirit, and body.

Read each paragraph. Write 1 for first person, 2 for second person, or 3 for third person and identify the point of view of each.

Person to Person

1. You are on a deserted island: no town, no people—just you and those crazy, noisy seagulls. What are you going to do?
2. Toward the castle she fled. She begged the gatekeeper for entrance. He was as deaf as a gargoyle. He did not hear her cries. Past the stone walls she scurried, the hounds in pursuit.
3. Maggie bit her lip. No use crying about it. She pulled her math homework out of the sink and just stared at her little sister.
4. Yesterday was not the best day to be living at our house. The dog ate all the cereal. My bike had a flat tire, so I had to walk with my sister Trisha. Then I found out the hot water heater had burned out, and I had planned to take a shower.
5. The music is playing those lovely holiday tunes, but you're not listening. You can't. You have too many important things to plan. What should you buy for Diandre? Who should you invite to the party?
6. I'm not proud of it. Really, I am not. But no teacher's ever gotten through to me. I guess I'm just not cut out to be a scholar.
7. When he woke up that morning, Tony looked out the open window and breathed deeply. The air, fresh and cool, made him feel alive with anticipation. Today was the big game!
8. Columbus stood on the deck of the ship. Land was on the horizon. Land! Not the edge of the world, not dragons to devour the ship, but the land that would make his fortune . . . his and Spain's.
9. I think Mama forgot me. Otherwise, she would come and find me. Oh, no! I've been bad! Mama said not to go see the toys because I'd get lost. Mama is going to be mad at me!
10. The sky is clear. Not too much of a breeze. Perfect weather. That's why your heart is thumping, you know. It's time to do it once and for all. You've got to jump out of the plane and prove that you can skydive.
